

ALEXANDRIA.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 15.

THE Commercial Exchange of Philadelphia has declared in favor of free raw material and free ships, and against bounties. As Philadelphia is the headquarters of protection, this declaration looks very much as if the low tariff forces had made a rapid advance from the outposts in Iowa upon the central position of the protective tariff in Pennsylvania.

THE QUESTION of raising the salary of a member of Congress is again mooted, and it is urged that upon $5,000 per annum he cannot "keep in the swim." But as times go now, when merit no longer counts, and poverty prevents a poor man from entering for congressional stakes, the rich will have to pay for the fun and stand up to the rack, fodder or no fodder.

POSTMASTER GENERAL WANAMAKER says he does not intend to lose his temper over the Hampton letter, but shall try to "do the business of the postoffice for democrats as well as republicans at the old stand." He can't sink the ship.

MR. BLAINE is to do something startling in order that the State Department may be distinguished during this administration. It is hoped that he may be more successful than his conferees.

FROM WASHINGTON.

(Special Correspondence of the ALEX. GAZETTE.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 15, 1889.

Mr. Ryan, recently re-elected to the Virginia legislature from Loudoun county, was here today. He says that though the democrats of his county gave McKinley six hundred more majority than they gave Cleveland, they only polled nine more votes. He attributes the gain to active and passive republican help, many republicans having voted the democratic ticket and many not voting at all.

Some of the active Mahoneites in Virginia are writing to their friends here to find out how the President is affected toward their defeated leader, and what chance they have for a federal office. Most of the republicans are to the effect that Mr. Harrison has "shot" the General.

Mr. Brady, collector of internal revenue for the Richmond district, Virginia, which position he obtained for signing the famous Quay-Brady compromise, and the only man who profited by that compromise, was here yesterday. He did not expect to be surprised or grieved at the result of the recent election in his State, but talked about it with interest.

Col. Larry Boyce, of Clarke co., Va., when here a day or two ago, said that ex-Senator Riddleberger voted the straight democratic ticket at the recent election, legislative as well as State, and stated he always had been a democrat. The Colonel is of the opinion that the ex-Senator has come back to the democratic party to stay.

Mrs. Mahone and her daughter are expected home from a prolonged trip to Europe next week, and with the General will continue to reside in Petersburg.

Mr. John Popham, Jr., of Virginia, U. S. commercial agent at Panama, arrived at New York yesterday and here this morning, but will return in a few days, as his furlough is only a short one.

Now that ex-President Jefferson Davis has declined an invitation to attend the centennial celebration of the adoption of the federal constitution by North Carolina, on account of ill health, the order granting permission for the Marine Band here to supply the music for that celebration has been issued.

Judging from the way the republicans now here from various parts of the country are talking about President Harrison, that lucky individual has as much chance of being re-nominated as well as Hayes had.

A Virginia democrat here today says that while he doesn't believe that many negroes voted the democratic ticket in his State at the recent election there, he knows that some did, and some at his own precinct.

Some of the old negro made a speech on the morning of the election, in which he repeated a dream he had the night before, to the following effect: He was dead and knocked at the gate of heaven for admission. St. Peter answered his knock, and asked him if he was riding or walking, and when he responded that he was doing the latter, he was informed that none but those who rode were admitted. As he turned mournfully away he met General Mahone also walking up to the gate. He told the General what had happened to him, and the General said, "Well, you got down on your hands and knees and rode me up." He did so, and when the General knelt, St. Peter asked him if he was riding or walking, and when the General replied that he was walking, St. Peter said, "General, just hitch your best outside and come in. This dream, the democrat feared to say, and the republican the democrat feared to hear of, was against the General.

No less than four ex-Confederate Generals were at the Metropolitan Hotel yesterday morning—Field, Payne, Rosser and Lomax. Senator Daniel is expected here today.

The following is the only change that was made in the 4th class passenger list of the Virginia today: Judge Dickinson, of this county, N. B. Sutherland, appointed postmaster, vice J. R. Sutherland, removed. Edward Markbar will be appointed postmaster at Fort Prince William county.

It is reported at the office of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue today that Mrs. Gould, the wife of the late internal revenue collector at Norfolk, who was recently killed in a street fight, will be appointed to the vacancy caused by her husband's death.

The fact that the President attended the recent dedication of the Catholic University here and kept his mouth shut, and judging from the way some of the Catholics of this country talk, has not caused them to forget that other fact that his superintendent of Indian Schools, Mr. Dorchester, removed all the Catholic teachers from these schools simply because they were Catholics.

UNVEILING A MONUMENT.—There was a grand demonstration at Suffolk, yesterday, the occasion being the unveiling of a Confederate monument. The oration was delivered by Judge T. G. Garrett, of Norfolk. He was followed by Governor Lee in an address replete with patriotic fervor and southern devotion. Other addresses were delivered by General Dabney H. Maury, of Richmond, and Colonel Thomas W. Smith, of Suffolk. The monument is erected in Cedar Hill Cemetery, in a lot donated by the town council, and is of Virginia granite. On the capstone is a life-size metal figure of a Confederate soldier.

Through the generosity of Col. T. W. Smith in memory of his comrades, the Confederate dead. The only accident that happened was the running away of the horses attached to the carriage of Governor Lee, who, with his whole party, was thrown out on the street, but not hurt.

A Washington dispatch says: "It is understood here that some of the strongest men in the republican party of Virginia intend to make a vigorous protest against the confirmation of Mahone's associates who have thus far been given Federal appointments. They will probably not succeed in all cases, but it is thought they will be able to knock out quite a number, and it is said that they will make a hard fight on Pat. McCull and R. R. Farr, as well as upon Smith Bolling, of Petersburg."

ONE of the delegates to the Pan American Congress who was at the Union League Club in Philadelphia in giving a description of the "reception," so-called, says: "We stood in a row like wax figures and the crowd of inopportunistly attired Philadelphians walked past us and made remarks as to our personal appearance and the evident similarity which existed between the features of North and South Americans. It would not have surprised me if some one had poked a finger in my ribs and said: 'Well, he's in pretty good condition.'"

The Iowa Senate has six republican majority by the republican claim. The democrats claim two of them as independents, and no telling how they will vote. The House is a tie.

The schooners Charles B. Church and C. E. White, the former from Baltimore for Boston, and the latter from Nova Scotia for Genoa, are many days overdue, and it is feared they have both been lost at sea. The White has been missing ever since August 21. She probably went down in the September gales.

The Brooklyn and Cincinnati clubs were yesterday admitted to membership in the National Baseball League, and that combination will next season be composed of ten clubs. It is believed that the Detroit and Milwaukee clubs will be invited into the Association to fill the vacancies caused by the withdrawal of Brooklyn and Cincinnati.

A strong pressure is being brought to bear on Dr. John L. Buchanan to influence him to become a candidate for re-election to the office of State superintendent of public instruction, and it is believed he will consent. Virginia Conference.

At yesterday's session of the Virginia Methodist Conference in Richmond, it was decided to appoint a committee on temperance.

A paper was referred to the committee of memorials, petitioning the General Conference, which meets in St. Louis next May, to amend the church discipline so as to make the maximum number of appointments for any district 30 instead of 20, as now provided.

The following fourth year members were elected to receive elders' order: Oscar L. Martin and Nicholas H. Robinson, of the Danville district; Bascom Day, Eastern Shore; Wm. H. Boggs, Lynchburg district; Ernest Stevens, Murfreesboro' district; and James O. Forkner, Danville.

The following local preachers were elected deacons: J. H. Moss, George D. Priddy, Thomas N. Potts, W. T. Harry, C. Rosser James and James Cannon.

A suggestion was made that Dr. Rosser be made a supernumerary instead of a supernumerary, for which he made application yesterday. It was stated that Dr. Rosser had been prevailed on that in the feeble condition of his physical health it would be best to make this change.

After the close of the day's session the members of the conference visited Randolph Macon College, at Ashland. After a collation the visitors examined the college buildings and grounds. At a mass meeting held in the village, addresses were delivered by Bishops Wilson and Granberry and other distinguished visitors.

Rumored Railroad Change.

NEW YORK Nov. 15.—The Herald says: "The directors of the Richmond Terminal met yesterday in this city and appointed a committee to nominate officers for the roads connected with the system. One of these is the Richmond and Danville, whose president is Mr. George Scott. The rumor yesterday was that Mr. Scott would not be re-nominated as president of the Richmond and Danville, owing to opposition to some of the schemes of the management, but would be retained as a director of the Richmond Terminal. The Gould party, it is understood, practically hold the balance of power in the Terminal company, and are likely to throw their influence for Mr. George Gould. Mr. Scott, on the other hand, is said to favor the retention of Mr. J. H. Inman the present incumbent. The annual election will be held in Richmond December 10."

The Late Blizzard in New Mexico.

CLAYTON, N. M., Nov. 15.—Don Louis Baca, a prominent Spanish sheep raiser of Ute Creek has just arrived at this place. He gives a very sad account of the late blizzard in that region. Five Mexican sheep herders perished in his neighborhood, the bodies of four having been found. The snow completely covers the ground from Clayton to the Canadian river, a distance of 125 miles. Many Mexican families are in a destitute condition owing to heavy snow. They are unable to move from their places in order to lay in a supply of food. Mr. Baca says other bodies will be recovered as soon as the snow melts, as several men are missing.

CITY OF MEXICO, (via Galveston) Nov. 15.—The government has placed in Europe through the national bank the amount of interest due on the national debt on January 1 next. The fireman, engineer and cook were driven off by the flames, and got into the life boat and were afterwards picked up. Capt. Joseph Lamorey stood in the pilot house until it caught fire, when he sprang overboard and was rescued by a tug. Then the Dalton ran wild around the lake, chased by two other tugs, which finally overtook her and tried to put out the fire. The boat burned to the water's edge and was run aground. She was valued at $7,000.

Remarkable Drift of a Derelict.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 15.—The American schooner David W. Hunt was dismasted Nov. 25, 1888, in a severe gale off Cape Hatteras. She was loaded with plum lumber and by Nov. 30, was water logged when her crew abandoned her. Then commenced her long and varied course of drifting across the Atlantic, which, after making 3,900 miles, in a little less than a year, she was towed into Madeira. She has been reported to the Hydrographic office 38 times, and from the beginning to the end of her career has been a very dangerous obstruction to navigation.

Failed to Agree.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Mrs. Annie Bassant, who was a candidate for membership in the London school board, brought an action for libel against Rev. Mr. Hoskyns, rector of a church in Stepney, who, the plaintiff alleged at the time of the election issued a circular in which he asserted that she regarded chastity as a crime and unbridled sensuality as a virtue. The case came up for trial today. After the testimony was all in, the judge summed up the evidence strongly against the plaintiff. The jury disagreed.
